

E-MAIL FEEDBACK

Dear Paul

Thank you for the awesome investment you are making into the lives of the youth. The camp you ran during December was according to James and Merrick one of the best things they ever did! They enjoyed every minute and holds a high regard for you and your assisting staff. I heard about the window and would like to pay the costs of repairs. Can you please let me know what we owe you. You are an awesome guy running an awesome programme and I pray that God will encourage, direct, and sustain you in 2006 to continue with the calling God has on your life. I will contact you early in the New Year to book our youth camps for St Pauls for 2006. May God bless you and your family to enjoy a Christmas where the love, joy and peace of Christ will overwhelm you.

Blessings and peace be with you

Your friend in Christ

Dear Paul

We are still in a state of awe and exhilaration after an absolutely awesome weekend. Thank you for everything you, Richard and Andrew did to allow each child to experience, grow, endure, persevere and excel within themselves. You have a really good thing going where the life skills taught through many direct and indirect avenues will imprint a message of enduring courage with faith in Jesus Christ in the difficult times we experience throughout life.

This Friday night we are having a prize giving as I want to award each child for overcoming his/her fears and reaching new heights with each obstacle they faced. We will think of you and the beautiful surroundings that are imprinted clearly on our minds.

My son James thanked me about ten times and said it was the best thing he has ever done! Can you please book him for the 12-16 December camp? My daughter Lara also wants to come on the camp. Is this possible? Please notify and I will make the necessary deposit.

May God bless you richly as you continue on this journey to enrich and expand the lives of our youth.

Kindest regards and best wishes
Margaret Janeke

Hi Paul,

Just a quick note to say thanks for a really good time at the family camp. Bronwen and I thoroughly enjoyed it and we both received much. She would love to attend one of your teen camps and I am thankful for the input, influence and guidance received. I am sure that you have had many positive reports of how God has worked in the lives of those that have attended your camps. I would love for my entire family to attend a family camp. It was good to see how families work together and the 'word' that was shared and received was absolutely apt – I am sure to each one that was there – not just myself. We are truly blessed to have obedient children of God in such an uplifting ministry. Thanks Paul, we really appreciated you and your helpers.

May God continue to richly bless this ministry!!

Regards,
Debbie

Hello Paul

Thank you once again for the time, effort and patience that you put into the family camp.....it was life changing.

I cannot fault anything....not even our spectacular shower although, i never used it. The food was great and there was an abundance of it. Tea, coffee, sugar, milk and fruit were freely available and this was great!!

My only suggestion would be to encourage the adults to bring their children to the early morning quiet time, as your messages were brilliant and I was sorry that some of the older children were not there to hear them.

May God richly bless you in this special ministry!

Thank you.

Regards

Cindy

Hi Paul,

For years I haven't participated in family fun. I have always been on the side lines watching my husband and children enjoying themselves in the waves or sliding down huge slides etc. (often with resentment). I have been over cautious and over protective. So lately I have felt like an old lady and a "kill joy". This week-end was so exciting. All the pressures and deadlines that are often just in my imagination were left behind. I enjoyed my family and I did things I never dreamt I would. Never did I expect myself to climb a mountain or absail. That was only for the crazy! I actually did it. What a blessing that my family can see that I am more than a nurturer....I am an adventurer. It makes me feel that I can do anything even if I have lots of rough edges.

I see my girls in such a different light. Emma has broken out of the box I have put her in. Praise the Lord. What a little go getter! Seeing that sparkle in her eyes believing she can achieve, is an incredible break-through for me. I can see that Bergen has flowered. She has always done badly in sport and seemed to have 2 left feet. Only until recently did she start doing any kind of activity. She has proven to herself that she can do more than she thinks. She has so much potential. It's lovely to see her personality shining through and her openness towards others. Even though Claire did not partake in any of the activities, she was right at home with the kids and wasn't clingy like she usually is at home. It was special to watch the girls in nature having loads of fun. Bernd and I reconnected as a couple and had fun together. Bernd said the camp was a real challenge and did him good to unwind with believers who are not legalistic. He could just be. He really enjoyed the paintball. I think it's a boys thing.

I think we were really spoilt with the food, it was better than I expected. We loved the potjiekos and the pressure packs. Glad that there was a tuck shop for a little treat. Fireside fellowship Challenging messages brought us back to what really counts in this life, our relationship with the Lord. I couldn't imagine a camp without the Word. It takes our hearts off ME and turns it to HIM. May the Holy Spirit bear lots of fruit in all of us.

A big thanks to all who facilitated. Each one of you have something really special. You guys saw something unique in my kids, things that I am often too preoccupied to see.

Paul, thank-you so much for the invitation. I really hope we can bless this ministry.

Bless you

Hi there,

Just to say a BIG Thank you to the Adventure and Beyond team, Paul, Lerant (excuse the spelling), Richard and Herman.

Attending your camp has turned our very new youth group on the right track, not only did I see a MASSIVE change in our youth's attitude towards themselves, each other and God, but I also saw positive growth in our new youth leaders.

One boy that I know of gave his life to the Lord this weekend – he was really stirred by the talk at the grave yard and was compelled to change his life.

Another boy said that a lot of his problems/issues have been resolved - also through the walk and talk on the Friday night.

I was very touched by one of the boys having the courage to open up regarding a massive hurt in his life and am now walking with him through this.

I was also really touched to see how much one of the shy and quiet boys just came out of his shell and over the weekend and saw himself as a vital part of the group by the time he left.

The racial and financial divides within the group also began to break down – I saw many of the youth mingling as equals despite huge differences in circumstances.

I was personally really blessed by the weekend and encouraged to see how much our youth leaders, including myself learnt by simply watching Paul and his team at work. I have taken A LOT away from this weekend, the talks were very inspirational for me, especially the talk in the cave and the passion and knowledge in which everything was done.

Paul has an amazing gift of hitting the nail on the head and targeting a group in exactly the right areas. He also come across as strong man of God and a Godly father figure. When he taught, spoke, challenged or encouraged it came out of a place of fatherly love. He is a strong man, but at the same time incredibly tender.

Lerant was such an encouragement for me, to see such a young man, making good choices, being so on fire for God and standing out of the crowd for what he believed. He has great leadership potential. He also approached people out of a place of love. I see him as a young man with a fire inside of him for God (wild at heart) but that fire comes to people through a layer of love.

Richard, wow, he knows so much, I think he has a photographic memory or something, what a pleasure to have someone on a team so passionate about what he does.

Herman, a man with quiet strength, doing his job diligently and showing encouragement when needed.

Thanks again to the whole team, I hope that this email serves as a source of encouragement and I pray that Adventure and Beyond is blessed beyond its wildest imaginations.

“Yet, when planted, it grows and becomes the largest of all garden plants, with such big branches that the birds of the air can perch in its shade.” Mark 4:32

I can't find the verse now, but I also wanted to give you the verse where it says 'good and faithful servant...whoever is faithful in little much will be given...' Matthew somewhere.

May God bless you all, and may you continue changing lives in the unique way that you do.
